Sunday Family Connections

Many things in our lives and in our world are subject to change. Yet all of us find security in relationships and values that endure. Foremost among these are our family relationships. We can confidently accept change if we know that we will continue to be loved by our family and by God. We help impart this sense of trust and confidence in our children with our daily assurances to them that nothing can change our love for them.

As you gather as a family, look through several family photo albums. Observe and talk about things that have changed in your family life over the years. Talk also about the things that have stayed the same. We do not need to fear changes in our family life because we know that the most important aspects of our family life do not change, such as our love for one another. The same is true with God and God's love for us. Read today's Gospel, Mark 13:24-32. Jesus teaches us that things in our world will change and that the world itself will one day end. We don't need to be fearful because God's love for us will never end. Conclude in prayer together thanking God his never-ending love for us. Pray together the Glory Be to the Father.

No Prayer is more powerful than the Mass, and there is no greater way to show our love for our dead than to have Masses said for them. This is the ancient teaching of the Church.

If you would like to have a Mass said for a particular intention (anniversary, birthday, thanksgiving, answered prayers or for someone who has died, please contact the Parish Office and we will be happy to assist you in finding a date. The suggested stipend for a Mass is $10.

Come Join us!

Come and join us on Sunday November 24th after our 8:30 Mass in the Parish Hall. We will be serving a Breakfast along with our Coffee and donuts. Hope to see you there!

Catholic Daughters will be meeting this Monday, November 18 at noon in the conference room of the Administration Bldg. We will be looking at our charitable plans for the coming months. Hope that many of you will be able to join us! We invite any ladies who are interested in learning more about our mission to attend our meeting.

The St. Joseph's 65th annual Christmas Bazaar is Saturday, December 7th. Thank you to everyone who is busily making crafts for us to sell! There is a beautiful quilt being raffled off, and tickets are available after Mass on Sundays.

The Altar Society is also distributing and collecting baskets for parishioners to fill with themed goodies to sell for the bazaar. This year we are having an Early Bird Bazaar Sale after each Sunday Mass, so all are invited to stop by and take a look.

Baskets and craft items may be dropped off at the weekly Altar Society meetings on Mondays at 10:00 a.m. until the sale on December 7th. Thank you to everyone who helps to make this sale so successful.

Stained Glass Workshop At Sacred Heart

Do you have an interest in working in stained glass? Please join us after morning mass on Wednesdays and Thursdays to learn more about this traditional and Holy Catholic Art. Initially we will remake the vandalized sign. The workshop space is on the second floor of the admin building. Father gave us a large room so all are welcome (not safe for small children).

We will work through lunch so a crockpot full of Stone Soup will be simmering. Don't know what Stone Soup is? Come and find out. Bring a carrot, or a potato, or a...

Spirituality of the Readings - XXXIII Sunday in Ordinary Time

November 17, 2024

John Foley, SJ

Getting Ready for Getting Ready

Jagged and dark.

These are the kind of images we find in the main readings for Sunday.

“A time unsurpassed in distress”, “Some shall live forever, others shall be an everlasting horror and disgrace.” “The sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will be falling from the sky, and the powers in the heavens will be shaken.”

Such readings are included in what are called “apocalyptic literature.”*

Why such horrible imagery, especially now with beautiful Advent just a few weeks away?

One reason is so that we might find within us a need for relief from all the turmoil. In other words, for the coming of the simple Christ child.

Recall that in our 21st century we find just the opposite of this: competing ideologies striving to take over. Look at the advertising world:

Shampooing your hair will make you ecstatic (with a corn-cob-eating grin on your face as you use the product). A car can “save your soul”! Casual sex without commitment is taken for granted. Free cable movie channels practicing the blasphemous use of God's and Jesus' name, censoring out only—sometimes—words referring to bodily functions.

Of course, in addition to such dehumanizing media forces, the world is faced with crises every bit as bad as what apocalyptic literature might suggest. The pandemic, which we hope is now over with. Economic crises that more than wreck people's lives; toxic wastes, holes in the ozone layer, tsunami and hurricanes, major climate changes. You can certainly add more. What shall we do?

Our readings do contain a few grains of hope.

At the end of the First Reading we find a beautiful promise of rescue:

... the wise shall shine brightly like the splendor of the firmament, and those who lead the many to justice shall be like the stars forever.

Such a passage can give us peace, but also a problem.

Should we be nourished by these lovely words, at a time when the greatest tribulations in human history are staring us in the face? An awareness of our tribulations is not wrong; it is right. But how can you or I have any effect on the enormity of our situation?

Maybe we should get hyper-active instead, reforming television, recordings, movies, video games, and so on. Or, better:

First, let us get smart. Examine carefully what we are able to do and with what effect. We are not helpless, no matter what we feel.

God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change;
courage to change the things I can; and wisdom to know the difference.

Second, let our courage rest in divine help.

I know well the plans I have in mind for you, says the Lord, plans for your welfare, not for woe! Plans to give you a future full of hope. When you call me, when you go to pray to me, I will listen to you and bring you back. (Jer 29:11)

That is what Advent will aim towards.

Use Sunday to wait for Advent waiting.

Give it a try!
