Sunday Family Connections

Understanding today's feast of Christ the King may be particularly challenging. While most of us do not have direct experience with kings or royalty, we have a sense of who they are. We know that royalty have sovereignty over their kingdoms. We know that those who are subjects to royalty offer them allegiance and honor. To understand how Christ is our king, we extend and magnify what we know to be true of the best of human royalty. Christ's kingship extends to all places, all people, and all times. Christ manifests his kingship through his death on the cross in which he offered salvation to everyone. Those who can see with eyes of faith recognize Jesus to be our heavenly king.

As you gather as a family, recall that this Sunday is the last Sunday in the Church year and on this Sunday we celebrate the feast of Christ the King. Talk together about what it means to be a king or queen. How do those who are subjects behave toward royalty? Invite children to role-play what one does in the presence of royalty. Read today's Gospel, John 18:33b-37. Ask your family to discuss these questions: Does Pilate treat Jesus like royalty? (No.) What does Jesus say about his kingdom? (It is not of this world.) Talk about how your family shows honor and obedience to Christ our King. Pray together the Lord's Prayer and ask God to help your family act in ways that show you recognize and honor Christ as King.

Mass Intentions

No Prayer is more powerful than the Mass, and there is no greater way to show our love for our dead than to have Masses said for them. This is the ancient teaching of the Church.

If you would like to have a Mass said for a particular intention (anniversary, birthday, thanksgiving, answered prayers or for someone who has died, please contact the Parish Office and we will be happy to assist you in finding a date. The suggested stipend for a Mass is $10.

Let's help and make our Church look beautiful this Christmas Season!

If you would like to help with our Christmas Decorations this year, you can go the this link and make a donation. <https://www.osvhub.com/tillamooksacredheart/giving/funds/christmas-decorations>

New this year for our 65th annual St. Joseph Christmas Bazaar on Dec 7th, some of our gift baskets will include gift certificates from our local businesses. But get there early for the best choice!

Also we have a one time donation of over 30 handmade aprons in various styles. Our bazaar is unique in that all items for sale are handmade by our parishioners. And ALL proceeds are donated to local south county charities. In the past 5 years we have donated over $34,000 to these charities!

Thank you to everyone for their support.

Stained Glass Workshop At Sacred Heart

Do you have an interest in working in stained glass? Please join us after morning mass on Wednesdays and Thursdays to learn more about this traditional and Holy Catholic Art. Initially we will remake the vandalized sign. The workshop space is on the second floor of the admin building. Father gave us a large room so all are welcome (not safe for small children).

We will work through lunch so a crockpot full of Stone Soup will be simmering. Don't know what Stone Soup is? Come and find out. Bring a carrot, or a potato, or a...

THE POWER OF A
WOMAN

We are starting a new Women's Group in our Parish.

The first meeting is December 3. Start with Mass at 5 pm and meet in the Conference Room after Mass. All Women are welcome.

Sacred Heart Women's Ministry mission is to promote devotion to Christ and the Church by sharing the Blessed Mother's role of bringing others to Christ through service, leadership, and spirituality particularly through the celebration of the Eucharist and the other sacraments of the Church.

The objectives are multifaceted, aiming to develop a deep, personal connection with faith, foster a supportive community among women, and equip participants with the knowledge and skill to serve and lead in various capacities that respond to the Gospel values.

What Kind of King?

Once there was a king named Arthur. You remember him, the one who thought up the Round Table and had Lancelot as his knight and Guinevere as his wife.*

Long before he became king, in fact when he was just an infant in the cradle, a strange thing happened. The nurse stepped out for a moment and, quick as a wink, Merlin the magician stepped in and then stepped out again ... taking the boy with him.

This was not a kidnapping. Merlin was a kindly old magician and his commission was to let the boy grow up as a normal—not a spoiled, pampered or “royal”—person. He was not to be miles above the animals and the people and the tiny, precious specks of beauty in the most surprising places in our lives.

He was to live with us.

So Merlin transported Arthur to a bedraggled castle ruled by a third-rate Lord named Sir Ector. The people were nice enough, and ordinary, and the crannies and nooks of the castle were perfect for a little kid to hide in and the halls for him to run around in.

All the servants and even the lords and ladies were his friends.

How could they not be? He was an ordinary lad, though he would be king one day. They called him Wart (which in those days rhymed with Art, which was short for Arthur).

Merlin, funny old character, decided to educate Wart in a special way. Magically, he changed the boy into various and sundry animals, each for a time. He turned him into a hawk, for instance—to witness first-hand the world as it appeared in a hawk's eyes. Or a fish. In fact, especially a fish because Wart could then attend a formal “school of fishes” and learn from their school-teacher.

It seems that Jesus had a few things in common with the Wart. Jesus was not called “King” or “your highness” as a boy, any more than Wart was referred to as “your majesty.” This one was called “Jesus,”** a common name in those days. He played outside, helped his dad, rolled in the mud, cut his finger, even helped birds to fly. And his mom was his very most favorite person.

He had a teacher who was even better at teaching than Merlin: the Spirit of God. It helped him through the creeks and cubbyholes of the earth and made him friends with the funny, sweet people who lived all around.

Both Wart and Jesus did grow up to be the kind of king they were meant to be. But they brought new images of a king. Their love was not just for the noble and the mighty but love for everyone. They were lowly. Jesus was “king” because he understood every minutest texture of everyone's life and world.

Later, Pilate would ask Jesus if he were a king. He was, yes, but not in any way that Pilate could have imagined. Smallness was his power. Persuasion was his scepter, along with an amazing ability to teach.

He was Christ the King.

Oh, I almost forgot. I typed a wrong key when I began writing, and hit a “d” instead of a “g” at the end of the word King. It came out “Christ the Kind.”

This is who we will find waiting for us on Sunday.
