Loyola Press Sunday Family Connections

In the people whom Jesus chose to be his closest friends—his disciples—we see many of the characteristic foibles of ordinary human beings. We also see the ways that God uses the gifts he gave us to transform us into new people, the agents through whom God will lead others to Jesus and to his kingdom. Let's consider the person Jesus chose to be a leader among the disciples and whom he sent to "catch people." Based on the evidence found in Scripture, we can imagine what Peter must have been like:

- Peter seems unafraid to speak his mind, yet he is also able to take direction. In today's Gospel, Simon Peter lowers his nets as Jesus commands, but not before reminding Jesus that he and his partners have been fishing all night and haven't caught anything.

- Peter is a leader, a spokesperson for others. Today's Gospel suggests that Simon Peter was a leader in his fishing business. When Simon Peter chooses to follow Jesus, others become Jesus' disciple as well.

- Peter's personality and charisma seem to make him the center of attention; yet Peter learned to be transparent, to let others see Jesus through him.

- Peter possesses a dynamic and open relationship with Jesus. Peter often approaches Jesus and speaks what is in his heart.

Gather as a family and spend some time imagining the person of Simon Peter. Encourage family members to tell details about Simon Peter that they recall from Scripture. Consider these questions: Is Peter someone you would like to be friends with? Why or why not? Do you consider Peter a good leader? Why or why not? Read aloud today's Gospel, Luke 5:1-11. Jesus chose Simon Peter to be the leader of the disciples. Peter continued to be a leader in the early Christian community; we continue to speak of Peter's leadership when we call the pope the successor of Peter. Discuss the role of the papacy and of other leaders in the Church. In what ways do we participate in the mission of the Church by leading people to Christ ("catching people")? Pray for those who lead the Church. Pray together the Prayer to St. Joseph, the Protector of the Church. <https://www.loyolapress.com/catholic-resources>

Homebound Ministry to the Sick

DO YOU HAVE A LOVED ONE AT HOME WHO WOULD LIKE TO RECEIVE HOLY COMMUNION?

Our parish is blessed to have parishioners who serve as Extraordinary Ministers of Communion (EMC) to parishioners who are homebound. It is most fitting to bring Communion to the sick and/or the homebound from the Mass, but other times may be arranged depending on availability. This ministry, a corporal work of mercy-visiting the sick-reminds those who are homebound that they are an important part of our faith community. Do you know a Sacred Heart Church parishioner who is homebound? Share this bulletin announcement with fellow parishioners whom you know and please invite them to call us. Please call the Parish Office at (503) 842-6647 to make arrangements.

Spirituality of the Readings -
FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
February 9, 2025
John Foley, SJ

Who Is Worthy?

By this time we are well into Jesus' public life, his Galilean ministry, the one he began in Nazareth.

But this Sunday contains a surprise development. Isaiah, Paul and Peter are each expressing themselves as worthless! Three of the greatest witnesses in the Bible!

What is your attitude toward worthlessness? Do you agree with today's psychologized sentiment that, "I AM worthy," or "I am ok, you're ok," or "I buy this product because I'm worth it"? Are Isaiah, Paul and Peter "worth it" in this way? Let us look at Sunday's readings and see if these men fit the current definitions.

In Reading One, Isaiah receives a vision of heaven itself. The Lord is seated on a high and lofty throne. The Seraphim angel choir is crying out, "Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts! All the earth is filled with his glory!"*

It seems that Isaiah reacts with shame. "My eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts! But woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips, living among a people of unclean lips." (Is 6:5)

In response an angel swoops down with a burning coal to cleanse his lips!!!! He is doomed, alright, but doomed to be made clean through suffering, to be made able through it to speak of God.

In Reading Two St. Paul says that Christ appeared to him last of all, as to one born abnormally. "For I am the least of the apostles, not fit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God." Unworthy, yes. But did the grace of God discard him? No, it appointed him a key Apostle even though he had never even met Jesus.

In the famous Gospel story, Jesus tells Peter, James and John to fish in the deep water (where they had been fishing and fishing and fishing all night with no result). Without warning their nets are bloated with fish. Peter cries out, "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man." (Luke 5:8)

Isn't the experience of God supposed to lead to peace, forgiveness, and joy—not to shame?

Ok, make a distinction. The real reaction of all three figures is not really shame, which means concluding that they are each worthless. Instead it is a finding of their true place in reality. They are expressing a kind of humility!

How?

Each of them is forced to compare himself directly with the presence of God. When people meet the holiness of God head-on, they are therefore able to glimpse by contrast the humanness in themselves. They see that humanity seems full of holes like a sponge. None of them can any longer pretend that they shine like the stars because they see the real star bursting with light.

Experience of God let them understand that they are far, far less than God.

This is not bad, it is good. A falsely supposed importance cannot make us holy. But God can make us holy.

We can be proud to be unworthy if reception of God's love is a result. At Mass we echo that famous Roman centurion: "Lord I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof, but only say the word and my servant shall be healed" (Mt 8:8).

I suppose we could we react with shame; but notice that God does not say in return, "I reject you," but "I love you dearly. Come be with me, you fine human being."
