Gospel Reading

Every person in the Church is sent by Christ to do the work that he did. This task can seem daunting. Yet when we have learned to work together with others to achieve a common goal, we have learned something of what it means to do the work of Christ. The family is one such place in which we work with others, sharing a common task and a common goal. As family members gather, invite each person to reflect upon their contributions to family life. Invite each one to share one or two things that they do to help keep your family life flowing smoothly. Take time to thank one another for the contributions each person makes to your family life. Invite a family member to read aloud today's Gospel, Matthew 9:36-10:8. In this Gospel, Jesus sends the disciples to proclaim the kingdom of heaven. Point out that the disciples are called to work together just as family members must work together. Pray together that your family will always work together as a family to help one another. Pray that your family can be a model for other families. Pray together the Lord's Prayer.

Prayer before Mass - Prayer to the Sacred Heart

O Most Sacred Heart of Jesus;
You know the longings of our hearts, and you desire that we enjoy friendship with you. From your pierced side, you have poured out the well spring of life, for which we thirst. Your heart burns with a love for all people to return to a right relationship with you.

We celebrate the abundant gifts you have given this nation, founded on the self-evident truths that our Creator has endowed all people with the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

We make reparation for the offenses against you and against human dignity that have taken place in this nation.

May our hearts be united to yours, so that our families and communities enjoy peace and happiness; may broken relationships be reconciled, injustices repaired, and the wounds of our land be healed.

May your holy Catholic Church serve as a sign, pointing all people to your infinite love.

O desire of Nations and Center of History, we ask you to bless these United States of America.

Who live and reign with God the Father, in the unity of the Holy spirit, God for ever and ever. Amen.

We hope many of you will be there for our final meeting before summer break and share in some social time together.

Today's Reflection Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time (Year A) Sunday June 14, 2026

(Always Room for one more!)

We are God's beloved children. We are called, loved and embraced — cherished beyond measure.

We are God's people — daughters and sons of God — not because we have earned it or deserve it, nor because we are worthy in ourselves, but simply because God loves us. It is God, overflowing with generous love, who calls us to himself.

At first, Jesus' call was to go out to the recognised children of Israel — those whom God first claimed as his own; after all, first things first. Later, however, because of God's limitless love, this invitation was extended to include all peoples and all nations.

God's love is so abundant that there is always room for one more.

There is so much noise and busyness in our world today — so many conflicting voices, and many competing values, some directly contradicting one another.

The countless people of our world, both near and far, are very much like harassed sheep. The Lord says, "Go out to them; show them my love, and invite them into my pastures." It is heartbreaking. How do people make sense of life amid so much clamour?

In the first reading, the place called Rephidim means a resting place — a place of refreshment and support. There, with God's grace, Moses prevailed in battle against the Amalekites. His weary, uplifted arms were supported by Aaron and Hur — sustained in a place whose very name speaks of support. It was also there that the people, though they thirsted and lost trust in God, were still refreshed when God brought forth water from the rock.

God loves us, nurtures us, and seeks to help us — most often through the ministry of his own people, through our brothers and sisters around us.

The harvest is plentiful, and there is much work to be done, but the labourers are few. Only by God's grace can we meet such overwhelming demands.

We might ask, "Who are we to go out and live and proclaim the message of Jesus?" The answer is simple: we are loved and called by God. He has commissioned us for this work — not because of our merit, but because of his love. God calls us in love, and we respond in love.

And so each of us goes out on mission — not necessarily far afield. Our own local communities also need God's loving guidance and care. We return to our homes, our workplaces, our social circles and the wider community.

As the Gospel shows us:

We fulfil this mission primarily through our actions, accompanied by words where needed.

Actions speak louder than words.

We carry out acts of kindness, compassion, healing, mercy and practical help.

We give a powerful witness through selfless service — not for personal gain, but following the example of the Good Shepherd.
